Excerpt: . . . 9 cial incentives themselves may create new compliance burdens, and the cost of claiming those special incentives, again, the burdens, may fall disproportionately on small businesses. My written testimony touches upon several provisions in the tax code that create some distinctions between small and large busi-nesses. Some of those differences are favorable to small businesses. Some are unfavorable. The point I want to emphasize is the inordi-nate compliance cost placed on small businesses today. IRS data indicate that there are both significant amounts of under reporting of income by small businesses and significant com-pliance costs placed on small businesses, and there may be a cor-relation between the two. While noncompliance is not to be con-doned, it can be understandable how the heavy compliance burdens may generate the result of noncompliance with some of the rules of the tax system. Examining...
