Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Lecture on What You Missed in Not Visiting the World s Fair The ultimate good accomplished in bringing together the great from the nations of the earth will not remain an unknown history, for all that was accomplished in the many congresses of religion, temperance, and others by words of helpful cheer and wisdom, lent by good men and women, are fully recorded by Him Who in the presence of the assembled world will unfold their records made for a final report. Then shall all be made plain, that which awakened new aspirations and high ideals to be striven for, leaving in their wake memories most tender and sacred which were there awakened, and to-night we bring forth from the most hallowed recesses of the soul, the cultivation, unfolding, budding, blossoming, and fruiting which is yet to receive the final tintage, from the Son of Righteousness, which mellowing into a ripeness of enduring heaven, will be gathered by the soft hand of paternal love, into His kingdom of light. To those who visited the World s Fair we pause with them to retrospect upon the friends and associations connected with them, of the places where we met and parted, perhaps not to meet again on earth, but in a better land. So, in a silent procession, events and friends pass in review before us. How familiar each face in our favorite building or resting place; that particular painting or piece of statuary, or design of architecture; and hundreds of thoughts come crowding in which we remember enthused us with holier ambitions; and we regard these, as we do shadows of faces which were once...
