Not illustrated. 1915 Excerpt: .books, accounts, reports, vouchers and other records of any of these officers, as well as the orders of the commissioners court relating to the finances of the county. At least once in each quarter he must check the books and reports of the officers in detail, verifying the footings and correctness of the same and must stamp his approval thereon or note any differences, errors or discrepancies. He is authorized to prescribe and prepare the forms to be used in the collection of county revenues, funds, fees and all other moneys, and the mode and manner of keeping and stating the accounts, and making reports. All deposits in the county treasury must be made upon deposit warrants, a copy of which must be turned into the county auditor for entering upon his books. The county auditor must examine and approve all claims against the county before action by the commissioners court. He prepares the estimates of all revenues and expenditures for the county to be submitted to the commissioners court as the basis for the budget to be prepared by them. In the counties in which there is a county auditor, the financial duties imposed upon the auditor are taken away from the county clerk. The auditor is removable for official misconduct by the same authority which appointed him, and which thereupon appoints his successor. In those counties having less than the required population for the appointment of an auditor, there is no separate auditing authority,...
